This service is funded by the Australian Government's Department of Social Services.

UnitingSA acknowledges the traditional owners of country throughout South Australia, their spiritual heritage, living culture and our walk together towards reconciliation.

Our Disability Employment Service gives you the support you might need to find a job that reflects your skills, qualifications and goals.

We support people with any disability, particularly those related to mental health.

How can we help?

An Employment and Training Officer will help put together a Job Plan to match your goals and needs.

We will help you with:

- Career planning and goal setting
- Résumé preparation
- Job search techniques
- Application letters
- Interview skills
- Work experience
- Potential employers, by talking to them on your behalf
- Ongoing support to maintain employment
- Work related expenses such as vocational training or clothing

How does it work?

- Get in contact with us and make an appointment
- Complete paperwork eligibility and identification check
- Meet with your Employment and Training officer
- Talk about your abilities, goals and circumstances
- Go to interviews
- Undertake work experience or placement if needed
- Enjoy your new job

Who are we?

Employment and Training Support works closely with you to help you gain and retain meaningful employment, no matter your ability.

UnitingSA is a not-for-profit organisation all about respect, compassion and justice. With a long and proud history of building stronger communities, our can-do attitude is dedicated to supporting South Australians.
