What matters to you,
matters to us

Our friendly pastoral practitioners and chaplains are here to support you.

We will listen to your personal story and offer compassionate support to guide you through a range of emotions and experiences. We're also here for your family and friends.

How can we help?

We provide support for a diverse range of religious, spiritual and pastoral needs.

Speaking with us can help when you're:

- Feeling anxious or lonely
- Experiencing grief or loss
- Moving into palliative care
- Wanting to arrange a visit from someone particular to your faith-based or religious needs
- Simply looking for a chat

We respect everyone's confidentiality and privacy at all times.

Want to arrange a visit?

If you would like to talk with one of our pastoral practitioners or chaplains, simply ask a staff member at your site and they will organise this for you.
